WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19, 1877.

A Puritanical Pride.

Promises much to people by any laudable means that science affords, the evidences of physical decay.

Who that is in perfect health would not much the brighter, the more intelligent, and other sparseness of youthful vigor, with the luxuries, the rich color, and beauty of youthful hair? Parker's Hair Balsam stands pre-eminent as an elegant hair dressing, and by its beneficial action on the roots not only promotes a luxuriant growth of the young hair, but suffuses, restores gray or faded hair to the original brilliancy, color, giving a soft, rich and lustrous appearance to front beauty. No solar preparation so effectively removes dandruff or stops falling of the hair; its cooling and healing action entirely curing itching and burns of the scalp, and keeping the skin clean, white and healthy. It is perfectly harmless, exquisitely perfumed, and contains nothing that will soil the skin or gum the hair. It is not dye, and is unequalled for excellence and purity. Buy a little from your druggist, Z. Wayne Griffin, and test its merits.

German Syrup.

No other medicine in the world has ever given such a test of its curative qualities as Boscaro's German Syrup.

In three years two million four hundred thousand bottles have been distributed free of charge by druggists in this country to those afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Cough, Pneumonia and other diseases of the throat and lungs, giving the American people undoubted proof that German Syrup will cure them. The result has been that druggists in every town and village in the United States are recommending it to their customers. Go to your druggist and ask what they know about it. Sample bottles 10 cents each. Three doses will relieve any case.

Florida.

A strong of sufferers with coughs and colds, annually go South to enjoy the ethereal mildness of the land of flowers. To them we would say the necessity of that expensive trip is obviated by Cousens' Compound Honey of Tar, which speedily vanquishes the coughs and colds incident to this rigorous climate. For public speakers it surpasses the Demosthenic regimen of "suckles and sea shore," clearing the throat until the voice rings with the silvery cadence of a bell. Use Compound Honey of Tar. Price 50 cents a bottle. For sale by W. F. Ford, Hartford, Ky.

Will the teachers of the county meet in the commissioners' office, on the 29th of this month, to make the necessary arrangements for the inauguration of a Teachers' Association? We will need to fix upon the time and place of the first meeting, appoint committees, assign subjects and arrange business generally.

Come one—come all, and let us show our determination to succeed.

Christmas Tree at Centertown.

Those who desire to place presents on the Christmas tree will please deliver the packages, etc., to the committee at the courthouse on next Monday morning between eight and eleven o'clock. The donors are especially requested to fix the presents in the manner they wish them to appear on the tree, so that it will be unnecessary to unfold or unwrap the articles unless desired. The above is published by request of the committee.

J. F. Yager, at the livery stable in Hartford, keeps horses, buggies, &c. for sale or hire. Property in his line bought and sold at a reasonable commission. Horses fed and cared for at fair rates.

Editor Herold.

DEAR SIR.—After several days of incessant labor we have a good revival of religion going on in this place. Three have been converted and eleven are yet at the altar, with a continued increase of interest. Congregations are so large that room cannot be had in the house. Yours, ever,

J. T. PENDER.

Baptizing Next Sunday.

The colored folks' meeting in progress in the upper part of town has been quite successful. The Rev. G. W. Leach will baptize a number of new converts next Sabbath near the water mill.

Branch Store at Beaver Dam.

The enterprising firm of Baer Bros. & Co., have opened out a Branch Store at Beaver Dam. They are now receiving and opening a splendid stock of goods of every variety. Hats, caps, boots, shoes, notions, fancy goods, Christ mass and holiday goods, ready made clothing of all kinds and qualities to suit, also a full line of groceries, staple and fancy. Mr. S. Schenck, one of the members of the firm, has charge of the house. They have secured the services of the efficient and popular salesman, Weaver H. Barnes, Esq., who desires all his friends, relatives and acquaintances to give him a call at the new store.

Properties of the Wilson Sewing Machine.

For the season of the year, the weather is remarkably fine, almost approaching days of spring, the roads are in fine order, and now is a good time for delivering your tobacco, and doing your trading for the winter. We refer you to the card of Mr. James A. Thomas, who is buying tobacco. You all know he is strictly a man of honor and integrity, and he is the best point suited to sell to the advantage of our farmers. Some of you have hauled your tobacco to Owensboro, and we are informed were not even paid for hauling. The distance is too great to haul. Most of you can make the trip to Hartford and home in one day, with the assurance of getting full weight and the extent of prices. Why not support your own county market? Merchants and grocers are ready to sell to you at the lowest prices, and they are accommodating us business men at other places.

Baer Bro. & Co. have just received a lot of new lots.

We last week visited some of our neighbors, viz.: The Greenville Echo, Owensboro Messenger and Owensboro Examiner. Mr. Woodson, of the Echo, is a young man of promise, and deserves well. The Muhlenbergers.

From Greenup we visited the Examiner and Messenger boys, in Owensboro, and found them sincere and altogether lovely. The Examiner is progressing nicely. The Messenger is also very popular. We were at a loss to account for its high moral standard, but when we visited the eminence and found the Rev. Mortimer A. Athy assisting in the editorial department, it was all explained. Owensboro should be proud of her papers, as no city of her size can boast of two as live, neat and enterprising as the Journal.

Mr. T. Baer, the senior partner of Baer Bros. & Co., has located here for a while. We find him to be a very intelligent gentleman, and he has the appearance of a first-class commercial man.

Go to Edwards & Foster's for your chickens and turkeys, either live or dressed.

Don't fail to go to Ford's and get your Christmas goods.

Mr. R. N. Duke, who has been so unfortunate as to have his house burned on the 11th of December, was on the other hand fortunate in living in such a charitable community as the Sulphur Springs. The citizens for miles around donated money, where they had possession of such a strange commodity, and those who had not love of God before his eyes, had moved and justified by the devil, had feloniously and with his malice stethed, broke and entered into the Masonic Hall by removing the lower sash of one of the eastern windows, and had then torn out the arch bar from the fire-place in the school room, with which he had preceded up stairs and broken open the door to the lodge room and had turned up things around the lodge room and ante-chamber generally, finding nothing, however, which he deemed of value sufficient to steal, except a can of oil, a sun-candle and the square compass, taking the latter from the face of the open Bible on the altar. That thief will be a paltry in some god Insurance Company. He could have paid the small premium each year, and never would have missed it, and then in case of a loss like the present, he could have been reinstated to a very great extent. Every honest man, with savings, should be kept insured. Barrett & Bro., Hartford, Ky., are agents for the Moral Insurance Co., which is one of the best in the world.

They all say so, and so do I. Go and let W. H. Edison now at W. F. Morton's, have a chance at your watch if you want it repaired in first-class style.

Our citizens ought to read this article in this issue concerning narrow gauge railroads and investigate it, and if practicable and feasible, we ought to fit in a railroad from here to Beaver Dam in operation at once. Hartford never can and never will be any larger without rail road facilities. The town is neither as large or nearly as it was before the P. & R. R. was built, and all we need to do is to uphill again and go from one success to another, is a rail road connection with the outside world. Let's have it.

All kinds of Christmas tricks, cheap at G. M. Rowe & Co.'s, Centertown, Ky.

Christmas Tree.

Those who desire to place presents on the Christmas tree will please deliver the packages, etc., to the committee at the courthouse on next Monday morning between eight and eleven o'clock. The donors are especially requested to fix the presents in the manner they wish them to appear on the tree, so that it will be unnecessary to unfold or unwrap the articles unless desired. The above is published by request of the committee.

Very respectfully, R. P. ROWE,
C. S. C., Ohio County.
